

Planning Application Validation Service

Reduce planning application backlogs and increase productivity

Helping you get ahead

TerraQuest’s Planning Application Validation Service (PAVS) is designed to reduce the time and cost taken to validate planning applications while enhancing the applicant’s experience.

PAVS helps local planning authorities to successfully handle their increased workload, clear application backlogs and meet service level commitments by validating all types of electronic and paper planning applications.

The service checks planning applications against national and local planning policies and directly uploads them into the local authority back office system.

An application can be received, validated on a case officers worklist within just 24 to 48 hours.

Your complete service

Online applications submitted using the Planning Portal

Paper applications that are sent directly to Terra Quest from the local authority

All application types house holders minors/majors and others

Process all payments through the Planning Portal payment service

Validate all application types based on both national rules and local validationlists

What our clients say

Arun District Council

Arun District Council uses the TerraQuest PAVS to validate Householder and Advertisement Consents.

We treat the service as an extension to our own validation team and it provides us with greater resilience especially during busy periods. The staff are very approachable, and we have been pleased with the service that has been provided to date.

South West Devon Partnership

We engaged with TerraQuest, initially on a short-term contract, at a time when we were short on resources and our validation performance was suffering.

TerraQuest's integration to our systems was seamless and they offered an affordable and high-quality service which we ended up using for an extended period. I'd recommend TerraQuest as a professional team who offer an excellent service.
